

Want to learn to ride ?
Or drive?
Whether it's just for fun or whether you want to show,
Carolina Moon Stables
can take you all the way!

Carolina Moon Stables is a state-of-the-art equestrian facility with spacious stalls and indoor arena and outdoor ring, offering a wide range of services for horse and owner in a family friendly atmosphere.

Owner/trainer Ed Jackson and manager Deb Sargent combine many years of equestrian experience —

- training horses: American Saddlebreds primarily, but also Roadsters, Friesians, Morgans and American Standardbreds, including starting (“basic training”), showing under saddle, and show and pleasure driving; and
- lessons for humans, too (!), children and adults, in how to enjoy horses safely, and show them effectively. Our barn community includes youngsters who learned to ride with us, and progressed to winning big ribbons in national competitions; students who learned to ride as older adults; and owners who continue to enjoy horses, whether competitively or solely for family pleasure.

Saddleseat
is the style of riding used in the show ring, as well as English pleasure riding. It emphasizes correct posture for balance and contact with the horse, all with a primary emphasis on safety for both horse and rider.

Show-ring driving involves presenting the horse and its skills to best advantage, whether in performance, pleasure, or roadster divisions. Carriage driving emphasizes safety and fun with horses!
